

TRACER (S1415CD) NEWSLETTER

December 2018

STUDY UPDATES

- ✦ As of 12/10/18, there are 2,404 patients registered to the study.
- ✦ While accrual caps for randomized components have been raised to up to 100 low and high risk patients and up to 100 intermediate risk patients, we ask that all sites attempt to accrue at least 49 low and high risk patients and 50 intermediate risk patients.
 - ✦ If you have any questions on where your site's accrual is, please contact us at tracer@fredhutch.org.

TrACER: A Pragmatic Trial Assessing CSF Prescribing Effectiveness and Risk

This pragmatic trial is designed to test an intervention to increase compliance with guidelines, and generate evidence to assess effectiveness of Primary Prophylactic CSF (PP-CSF) on reducing rates of FN for patients receiving intermediate-risk chemotherapy regimens. TrACER is the first trial of its kind and is sponsored by SWOG, a part of the National Clinical Trials Network. The trial is led by Dr. Scott Ramsey at HICOR and funded in part by PCORI.
